

Earth Energies Environmental healing- understanding Geopathic Stress (EE2)

Tutored by a BSD Registered Tutor experienced in dowsing and sacred space either in a two-day format or in a one-day format with a one hour follow up Zoom meeting one week later.

Aim

- To teach the basic principles of dowsing for Geopathic Stress and other unhealthy earth energies as well as the required terminology

Objectives: At the end of the course, the students will be able to:

- Select a healthy site for living/working
- identify geomantic problems
- Use the basic skills necessary for successful identification of Geopathic Stress and effect harmonising
- Show that they understand the risks inherent in dowsing for geopathic stress and the support available to them
- Apply the BSD Ethical Code

Dowsing for Geopathic Stress

- due to human mental energy residues on sites or 'downstream' of battles, despair or displacement
- due to physical change in the landscape such as quarrying, mining or construction
- due to the natural energies of the site being inappropriate to present use
- other sources of sick building syndrome including air quality, light quality sound and electromagnetic stress

Practices, technique and coaching

- Discuss and demonstrate practices and physical techniques.
- intangible techniques using intention alone
- introduction to geopsychic issues such as: elementals and nature spirits, human ghosts and other entities.

Support and safety net

Ensure students understand that personal risk is involved in some of these practices and that a good support network of friends and other practitioners is essential for safe practice.

Understand that the tutor of this course will have a duty of care to support students as necessary.

Ethics and codes of practice

- Review the BSD members' code and discuss the ethical considerations of working with, changing or heating earth energies both on private property and in public spaces
- Review and discuss psychic maintenance and protection

Dowsing resources

- Information about the Earth Energies group and further training opportunities and events.
